

Self-Drive Instructions to Appellation and The Louise Barossa Valley

Appellation and The Louise are located in the easily accessed north-western sector of the Barossa Valley about one hour from Adelaide via the new Northern Expressway.

Please be aware that South Road is under major construction during 2017. We advise using these self-drive directions to avoid delay and detours on that road in the area north of the airport.

Driving Directions from the Adelaide Airport

If starting at the airport: Leaving the airport car park or rental car lot, follow the roadway signage towards Adelaide City or Adelaide CBD (Central Business District). As you reach the main exit of the Airport (IKEA store on your left), turn right on Sir Donald Bradman Drive and proceed about 3km toward the city until the intersection with South Road. Turn left onto South Road (yes, you will be travelling northerly on South Road) and continue on this road for about 10 minutes through a congested area and then this roadway becomes an elevated limited access motorway proceeding through the north-western suburbs. At the end, merge onto the Port Expressway and then exit left in about 2km

Driving Directions from Adelaide City Area

If starting from within the city: Locate King William Street (the main North/South boulevard through the CBD). Proceed about 10km from the CBD through North Adelaide and the city's inner northern suburbs, following signs for Port Wakefield Road (A1). At Gepps Cross five-way intersection, ignore the outdated brown tourism direction sign suggesting that you bear slightly right (for the Barossa via Gawler). Rather, continue straight ahead toward Port Wakefield on the A1...

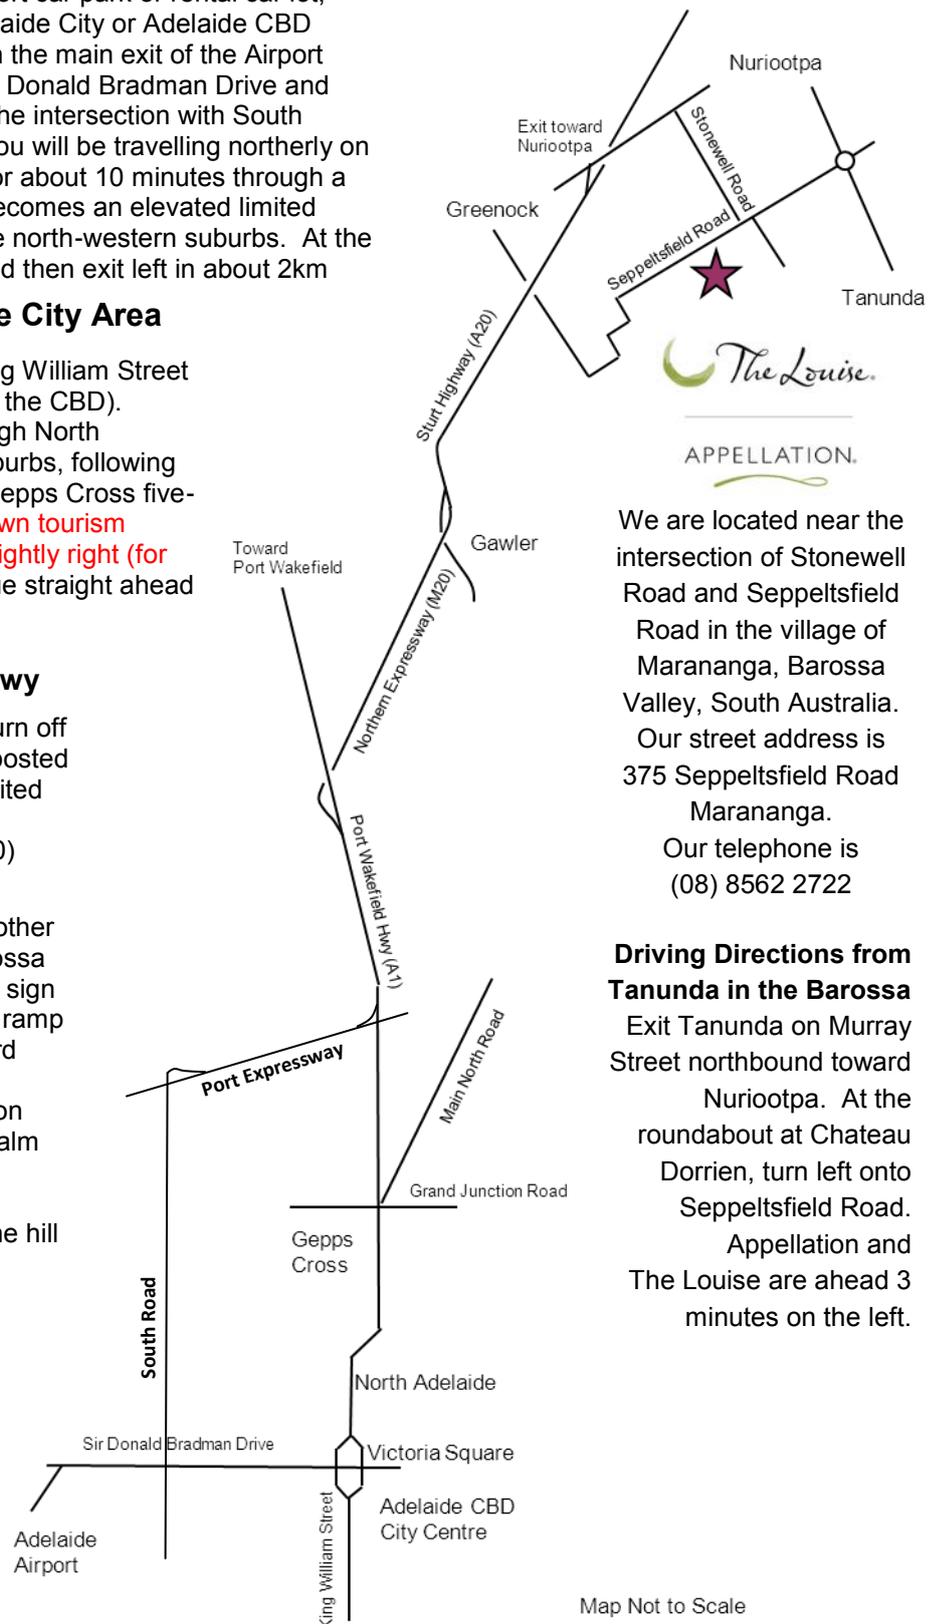

Continuing along Port Wakefield Hwy

Proceed about 10km until the left-hand turn off for the Northern Expressway (M20) signposted to the Barossa. This new high-speed limited access motorway bypasses Gawler and connects directly onto the Sturt Hwy (A20) toward Nuriootpa and the Barossa.

Continue through the rolling farmland another 20 minutes on the A20, entering the Barossa Valley passing over a hill with a Penfolds sign at the top. 5 minutes further on, take the ramp for the Nuriootpa exit and turn right toward Nuriootpa. After just 1km, turn right onto Stonewell Road (local signs for Appellation and The Louise). After 3km, at the four palm trees marking the Seppeltsfield Road intersection, turn right. The Louise and Appellation are just ahead at the top of the hill on Seppeltsfield Road.
