

APPELLATION®

Australia's global wine and food region stretches before you.
A patchwork of paddocks and world-famous vineyards.
The promise of produce soon to grace your plate and fill your glass.

Acknowledgement of Place

Across Australia, for hundreds of centuries, the indigenous traditional custodians have cared for the annual six seasons of sustenance and abundance.

We acknowledge this area's Kurna, Peramangk and Ngadjuri peoples and pay respect to their elders past and present.

We likewise honour the European Silesian settlers who six generations ago came to plant and tend to the vines that shape the Barossa we share with you tonight.

In an often fast and loud food world, Chef Daniel Murphy's style is refined, subtle and finely-balanced. His dishes hum with reverence for local ingredients and a respect for precision and technique.

Sommelier Geoffrey Hunt believes in global beverage diversity. The list and cellar, ripe for an oenophile adventure or an indulgent surrender to Barossa or South Australian wine pairings.

Guest experience curator Mel Hamilton and her service hosts are here to guide you through our culinary celebration of a regional community utterly devoted to eating, drinking and living well.
